BARRICADES & TEMPORARY WALLS what's the difference?

Used to promote a secure environment for construction crews, BARRICADE panels stay assembled and attach to each other using a fast-connect U-channel. Barricades are easy to move, and reuse at different worksites. TEMPORARY walls are a semi-permanent option for creating conference areas, offices, and clean, professional looking partitions in public spaces. As layouts change, they can be completely broken down and reconfigured.
